As a superb hair dressing and renovator Ayer's Hair Vigor is universally commended. It eradicates scurf and dandruff, cures all eruptions and itchings of the scalp, promotes the renewed growth of the hair, and surely prevents its fading or turning gray.

The enervation and lassitude of spring time are but indications of the sluggish action of the blood, over-loaded with carbonates accumulated by the use of heating food in winter. This condition may be remedied by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier known.

Rev. D. M. Carpenter, of Clymer, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., writes March 2, 1885: My boy, two years old took a severe cold which settled in his throat and lungs. Nothing afforded relief, and I thought he must die. Finally I put an Alcock's Porous Plaster around the throat and one on the chest. In less than an hour his breathing became better, and he fell asleep. In twenty-four hours the child was well.

THE INCENDIARY CASE.

Matt Brannan Arrested and Placed Under Bonds.

On Sunday morning Constable Stern arrested Matt Brannan on the charge of setting fire to Rickey's house. He was taken before Justice Gaige who bound him over to appear before the Grand Jury and fixed his bonds at $1,000. Jake Klein and Jake Tobriner appeared as his securities.

The cause of the arrest was the findings of the Fire Commission, consisting of Messrs. Swift, Thaxter and Chedie, who found that all the testimony taken pointed to Brannan as the guilty party. The testimony was taken in closed doors, and is withheld from the public until the trial so as not to prejudice the case.

Straight Talk for Debtors.

Greenville, Alabama, has an eccentric merchant who has a plain way of telling the truth about men and things. He recently issued an address to his debtors, in which he handles them without gloves. Here is a specimen of his dunning delinquent customers. There is considerable crude common sense in it:

"This is my last appeal. I shall force things to the last extremity. You may look out for riders; mortgages, executions, writs, lawyers, courts and sheriffs. They will skin you alive and pull the very hair or wool off your head and the filling out of your teeth. Who made you poor, and what has that to do with justice, truth and honesty? The cause is your big stomach and little cotton patches. It is your eternal getting and waiting and buying and loafing, and you are too lazy, to pay your debts, but you make big mortgages with little security, buying all the year, eating and drinking, smoking, chewing and spitting; drunk as often as you can get money to buy a quart of the devil's own; then you spend your time loafing around gin holes. When pay day comes you say: 'Old man Wilkinson has broken me up.' You know you tell an unmitigated lie every time you say so; you made the mortgage and you ate up and wore the goods and you never paid for them. Now settle up and stop this everlasting whining. Pay up and give satisfaction and be a man."

Carson Ahead.

Carson seems now to be distancing all competitors. On Sunday she won the rifle match with a score of 826 against Virginia's 801. Immediately after the match Capt. Wright sent his men to the target and scored 841, the highest ever made in the world.

In the ball match the Carson nine beat the Silver City club with a score of 30 to 12. Sunday was a great day for Carson.

STATE FAIR OF 1886.

Fine Running, Trotting and Racing Races—Splendid Cattle Show, Indian Races, Military Tournament, Ladies' Tournament, Sheep Shearing Match, Etc.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the State Agricultural Society was held in Reno Friday afternoon, President Stevenson presiding, and Directors Longley, Powning, White and Leete being present. The premium lists and racing programme for this year's Fair were made up and ordered sent to the printer. The new catalogue has been specially arranged with a view to accommodate all interests experience has taught should be encouraged. The premiums have been increased, and many new articles provided for. The speed programme gives plenty of sport, and gives home horses a chance on their own account, and at the same time invites the fastest nags on the Coast or in the country to come to Reno this Fall. The running, pacing and trotting purses are liberal, and will attract good stock. Four valuable prizes will be given for the ladies' tournament on Wednesday and Friday. This year there will be two Indian pony races—on Tuesday and Friday, and all the Shucknasty Jims and Winnemucca Johns in the State are expected to contest. On Thursday a novelty in the way of a sheep shearing match has been added, and will prove one of the most attractive features of the week. A purse of $150 is offered for a competitive drill between the military companies, and arrangements will hereafter be made for a shooting tournament. The Directors intend to make the Fair this year the best ever held in the State.

"Measure For Measure."

"Measure for Measure" one of Shakspeare's most interesting and witty plays will be presented tomorrow evening with no less persons than Celia Alsberg, Sheridan, and Morrison in the cast. This is certainly the strongest Shakspearian combination that has ever visited Carson.

The play we believe has never before been given in Carson. The plot hinges on the fact that a high official in a city in Austria found that the very stringent laws against immorality were not being enforced. He accordingly left his office temporarily and turned over the expounding of the law to a cold blooded heartless man whom he knew would execute them without mercy.

Presently a seduction case comes up and the culprit is sentenced to death, much to the astonishment of the people, as the laws against bad morals had been a dead letter for a hundred years. The Duke disguised as a monk lays about the Court to see if his substitute is carrying out the law as laid down in the books, and is asked to intercede with him. Several of his friends who do not penetrate his disguise assure him that if the Duke was only there the accused would be safe and one of them makes this assertion on the ground that the Duke was "that kind of a man himself" and had infringed on that very law more than anybody in the province. The ruined girl pleads for the life of her betrayer, and the Duke finds public opinion so thoroughly against the execution of such a law that he is obliged to get back on the bench to save the man's life.

The play is very broad in places and a good deal of the broadness has been eliminated by Cully Ciber in the acting version but what is left is so spiced with Shakspeare's subtle wit as to make it presentable to an audience.

The play illustrates the heroic forgiveness of a woman's heart and the difficulty of enforcing stringent laws in favor of a morality which a community does not especially break its neck to practice. In the hands of three such finished artists the event of Wednesday evening will be one to be remembered in Carson.

FATONIZING CHINAMEN.

The People Who Were Charged With Doing So.

Something over a week ago charges were made in the League against ex-Governor Kinkaid, John G. Fox, General Clark and Olcovich Bros. It had been the General custom to have such matters laid before the Executive Committee privately to have them examined into privately. But the charges having been made publicly they were disposed of publicly. The report of Sunday morning contained only the partial facts and in justice to all parties the APPEAL publishes all it knows relative to the matter. Gov. Kinkaid had made strenuous efforts to secure white help and had written to four different places in California for such help. He is at present suffering from indisposition so much so as to be unable to dress himself and had kept his Chinese servant from sheer necessity.

Gen Clark had been applied to by a Chinaman for food. It was one he had frequently fed before and he gave him the food as a matter of charity. In return the Chinaman cut some wood for him.

Mrs. John G. Fox some time ago engaged a Chinaman to put down some carpets. He did not begin until the last of March and finished a few days after the 1st. As the Covenantant did not effect "existing contracts" there was nothing out of the way in this. The Chinaman has not since worked there.

A Chinaman recently employed at a neighbor's house came to Fox's yard to borrow tools, which probably gave rise to the story that Fox was employing Chinamen.

The Olcoviches in replying to the affidavit state that the offense alleged to have been committed by them was in January, and that they had not dealt with Chinamen since the 1st except to collect bills.

Dozens of charges similar to the above have been reported from time to time to the Committee, which have all been privately investigated. In most instances they were susceptible of some such explanation as the above, and further consideration of the matter was dropped. The Committee believing the movement was making such steady progress that it was not necessary to resort to any but conservative measures in carrying out the will of the League.

EASTER.

Some Good Music at St. Peter's.

The Easter Services at St Peter's Church drew a packed congregation every available seat being filled. The Church was profusely decorated with flowers and there was a gorgeous display of Spring bonnets and purple and fine linen incidental to the Easter obsequies. A striking feature of the service was the fine music. In times past the Episcopal choir has frequently committed the error of biting off more than they could chew in the matter of music aiming to render technical and difficult music which was more of the "showy" order than otherwise. On Sunday last it took a reasonable mouthfull of melody and masticated it with complete success.

There was richness and harmony in the selections and the rendering was as near perfect as any church choir in the county could make it. In the evening the children had their festival amid a profusion of flowers and music and acquitted themselves also very creditably.

Siddons, the watchmaker and jeweler, has opened a shop opposite the Opera House, where he is prepared to attend to all work in his line as formerly. Watches, clocks, jewelry etc repaired and warranted.

LOST—From the APPEAL office, book of bound vocal music, name of lady on cover. Liberal reward will be paid if returned to this office, and no questions asked.
